GENERAL INFORMATION

Introduction to Advanced Practicum/Pre-Internship and Student Teaching/Internship Field Experiences

Welcome to Washington State University Vancouver (WSUV)! This handbook has been prepared to provide an overview of the field experiences and links to information that will be helpful to mentor teachers, school administrators, and WSUV teacher candidates.

Effective teaching requires that educators draw upon students’ social, cultural, linguistic, and academic strengths. To accomplish this task, teachers must have an understanding of (a) learners, (b) learning, and (c) teaching, as well as the disposition to employ this knowledge in the service of individual welfare and social justice.

The success or failure of the field experience depends on the quality of relationships developed among the teacher candidate, mentor teacher, and WSUV Field Supervisor. Each plays an important role that contributes to the total professional development of the prospective teacher. Three-way continual communication is the key.

Field experiences contribute to attaining the mission of the College of Education to “address the needs of communities, families, individuals, and education institutions in a diverse society by establishing a learning community that provides reciprocal development among students, faculty, and staff through leadership, scholarship, and professional practice.”

OVERVIEW OF WSUV CERTIFICATION PROGRAMS

Bachelor of Arts Degree in Elementary Education (BA:K8)
BA juniors complete T&L 402 in fall semester and T&L 401 in spring semester, practicum experiences that familiarize them with school cultures and the role of the teacher.

During their senior year, BA teacher candidates complete a full year of supervised placement in public K-12 schools. Teacher candidates finish coursework including the advanced practicum seminar, which develops familiarity with the edTPA and concentrates on classroom management, and field experiences.

BA senior teacher candidates follow the university calendar from August through December. A practicum of at least two days per week is scheduled on Tuesdays and Thursdays. During spring semester, fulltime student teaching occurs from January until the last week of April. Teacher candidates follow the school district calendars of their placements during spring semester. During the semester of student teaching, seminar is the only required university class. Seminar assists teacher candidates in processing field experiences, discussing certification, supporting the edTPA tasks, and developing job-seeking skills.

The program handbook is available online at https://education.vancouver.wsu.edu/handbooks.

Master in Teaching with Elementary Certification (MIT-E:K-8)
Post-baccalaureate students in the Master in Teaching Program with Elementary Certification experience an intense 15-month certification and master’s degree program. Program coursework begins in summer session.

The pre-internship begins in fall semester. All of the field experiences articulate with seminar, which helps the teacher candidates process the field experience, the candidates may create and present a summative project or portfolio, and support understanding of edTPA tasks.

In January, teacher candidates begin student teaching fulltime. Seminar continues with the same foci and adds edTPA support, employment search strategies, and certification requirements.

The program handbook is available online at https://education.vancouver.wsu.edu/handbooks.

Master in Teaching with Secondary Certification (MIT-S: 5-12)
Teacher candidates in this program have baccalaureate degrees. The certification portion includes four consecutive semesters of study and two field experiences. Many teacher candidates begin working on their Master in Teaching degree during this time period, culminating with their master’s degree research project. Courses begin spring semester and continue through summer session. Fall semester includes College of Education courses and the pre-internship with seminar. The foci of the pre-internship are observation and relationship-building within the school placement. Seminar allows teacher candidates to process the field experiences, create practice lessons for implementation with students, begin the first task of the edTPA, and develop peer supports.

The internship occurs in the final spring semester when teacher candidates are in public school classrooms fulltime where they develop, teach, and assess instructional units/lessons. Often, a teacher candidate assumes responsibility early in the internship for teaching one class, gradually moving towards teaching three classes and teaming with their mentor(s) for the other classes. During seminar, students process their field experiences, prepare for the edTPA, and develop resume and interviewing skills. The student teaching internship runs from January until the last week in April.

The program handbook is available online at https://education.vancouver.wsu.edu/handbooks.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in Elementary Education, K-8 (Pullman prepared)

Teacher candidates in the elementary program complete a five-week advanced practicum during the semester before student teaching. Teacher candidates return to the same classroom the following semester to complete a full semester of student teaching and attend seminar sessions on the WSUV campus. Pullman teacher candidates follow the Vancouver Bachelor of Arts in Education Program calendar. For more information, go to http://education.wsu.edu/field/studentteaching/handbook/

Bachelor of Arts Degree in [Specific Subject] 5-12 (Pullman prepared)

Pullman secondary teacher candidates are fulltime student teachers for one semester. They follow the school district calendar for this experience. They are familiar with the cultures of schools and the role of the teacher, as they have had several prior field experiences. Seminar assists them in processing their field experiences, supporting work related to the edTPA, discussing certification, developing job-seeking skills, and creating and presenting a professional growth plan. The transition timeline is outlined online at https://education.wsu.edu/documents/2015/08/student-teaching-handbook.pdf

KEY POLICIES FOR FIELD EXPERIENCES

- Supervision: The advanced practicum or pre-internship and student teaching internship must be supervised. Consequently, a certificated mentor teacher or administrator should be readily available to the teacher candidate, as specified by WAC Chapter 180-44. Moreover, the WSUV Field Supervisor will maintain the supervision of the teacher candidate on behalf of the university.

- Placement and Calendar: The practicum (BA Program) and pre-internship (MIT-E and MIT-S Programs) follow the university calendar during fall semester. When the student teaching internship begins, teacher candidates follow the public schools calendar. The university’s Co-Directors of Field Experiences and the cooperating school district assign a mentor teacher for each teacher candidate. Through a contractual agreement, the teacher candidate is under direct supervision by a WSUV Field Supervisor and district-appointed mentor teacher in the public school system.

- Time Line for the Field Experiences: The traditional progression toward increasing responsibilities for the teacher candidate is described in the Field Experiences Schedule section (Page 14-15). Appendix 5 (Co-Teaching Strategies) describes the approaches and anticipated schedule for co-teaching in which both the mentor teacher and teacher candidate plan and teach together throughout the field experience. Co-Teaching is a feature of instruction in some schools, though not all. Both traditional and co-teaching field placements provide necessary experience for teacher candidates. Adaptations are expected as the teacher candidate, mentor teacher, and WSUV Field Supervisor personalize the candidate’s schedule.
• Attendance: If a teacher candidate is going to be absent, they are responsible for notifying their WSUV Field Supervisor, mentor teacher and other designated school personnel in advance of the absence. When lead teaching fulltime, the teacher candidate is also responsible for providing the mentor teacher with appropriate plans for the day(s), just as they would in planning for a substitute teacher. Absences must be made up to the satisfaction of all involved. Teacher candidates are required to attend scheduled student teaching or intern seminars during the school day or after school hours as scheduled by the university’s seminar instructor.

• Work Stoppage: In cases where the mentor teacher participates in a work stoppage, the teacher candidate will report to the university supervisor until such time as deemed appropriate by the university and public school for the teacher candidate to return to the classroom. Under university policy, teacher candidates are not allowed in district buildings during work stoppages or to be involved in any strike related demonstrations or activities.

• Code of Professional Conduct: It is the responsibility of each teacher candidate to be familiar with the entirety of WAC 181-87, which details the Code of Professional Conduct for Education Practitioners.

  See Appendix 7 for The Code of Professional Conduct for Education Practitioners (also available online at http://www.k12.wa.us/ProfPractices/pubdocs/codeofconduct.pdf).

• Legal Responsibilities: The mentor teacher is responsible for the health, safety, and general well-being of the students (Chapter 180-44 WAC) Therefore, when the mentor teacher leaves the teacher candidate in charge of the class, the mentor teacher may still be held responsible for the students. However, should harm come to any student through a teacher candidate’s malice, negligence, or poor judgment, both the teacher candidate and the mentor teacher could be held responsible. For this reason, teacher candidates are required to secure professional liability insurance before beginning field experiences.

• Confidentiality: All students and their families have the right to privacy and confidentiality of all records, both verbal and written. Teacher candidates must abide by all confidentiality requirements under local, state, and federal laws, such as FERPA and HIPAA. They must not remove from the classroom or school any hard or electronic copies of official documents pertaining to a student, for example grade reports, IEPs, cumulative files, or locator cards. Identifiable student information should be shared sparingly and only if it will likely aid the student. Teacher candidates should consider e-mail, Twitter, Facebook, or other social media to be publicly available and thus unsuitable for sharing information about or with students. Sharing confidential communication about students, their families, teachers and other staff members is a severe professional violation, which can result in career-changing consequences. As a result, teacher candidates must use discretion at all times.
ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE MENTOR TEACHER, SCHOOL ADMINISTRATOR, AND WSUV FIELD SUPERVISOR

Mentor Teacher

The mentor teacher is an outstanding educator who has been given the responsibility to help a teacher candidate develop a sense of confidence and security in addition to the skills necessary to begin a teaching career successfully. The following suggestions are intended to assist the educator in his/her role as a mentor teacher.

- Make the teacher candidate welcome and a part of the learning community.

- Keep lines of communication open with the teacher candidate and the WSUV Field Supervisor. It cannot be stressed enough that this is one of the key factors in the success of the experience for all involved. Communicate! Communicate! Communicate!

- Collaborate with the teacher candidate in daily and long-range lesson planning and assessment of teaching performance and student learning. Refer to Co-Teaching Strategies in Appendix 5.

- Establish a daily/weekly routine for consultation, collaboration and team planning. Schedules are busy, but try not to let a day go by without some acknowledgment of the efforts of the teacher candidate.

- Engage in meaningful, systematic observation and feedback so that a teacher candidate deeply examines the concepts of teaching and learning. The use of observation and feedback will also allow the teacher candidate to strengthen his/her confidence and competence in teaching. The following link contains suggestions for using observation and feedback in the field experience: http://education.wsu.edu/field/studentteaching/handbook/.

- Provide the teacher candidate with both formal and informal feedback. Meaningful, systematic observations will enable the teacher candidate to study deeply the concepts of teaching and learning.

- Introduce the teacher candidate to the TPEP framework and practices used for teaching evaluation in the district.

- Assist the teacher candidate in leading the planning for an agreed upon duration of instruction, especially 4-5 weeks during fulltime student teaching. Assume the role of observer, collaborator, and provider of feedback.

- Allow the teacher candidate to have the opportunity to be the lead teacher and to be aware of how they are performing in that role.

- Assist the teacher candidate in reflecting on their teaching and analyze strengths and areas for growth. Current teacher education literature describes the advantages of teacher candidates engaging in reflection, and WSUV expects candidates to begin developing and deepening this practice.

- Continue to develop the teacher candidate’s awareness of the professional community.
• Assist the teacher candidate in exploring the benefits of belonging to professional organizations once the candidate is certificated.

• Expect that the teacher candidates will request a written recommendation from the building administrator, WSU Field Supervisor, and mentor teacher.

• The university recognizes the crucial role mentor teachers play in the preparation of teacher candidates. Mentor teachers are therefore eligible to receive 10 clock hours after advanced practicum/pre-internship and 20 clock hours after student teaching/internship. The clock hour form is distributed by the university with the payment voucher paperwork or by the WSU Field Supervisor in the exit interview.

School Administrator
The school administrator plays a key role in selecting qualified mentor teachers, helping teacher candidates become a welcomed addition to the teaching staff in the school, and serving as a resource person and observer. The following link provides detailed information about the expectations, procedures, and desired outcomes for a teacher candidate’s field experience: http://education.wsu.edu/field/studentteaching/handbook/.

It is very beneficial for the teacher candidate if the administrator:

• Assists in the selection of a qualified mentor teacher for the teacher candidate. An effective mentor teacher is a competent instructor who is willing to share students, classroom responsibilities, and professional expertise with a teacher candidate. An ideal mentor teacher is enthusiastic about teaching and is willing to allow their teacher candidate to develop a “personal model of teaching.” Many districts require teacher candidate interviews with potential mentor teachers before determining the final placement. The university welcomes this practice.

• Welcomes and introduces the teacher candidate to school staff members. Teacher candidates tend to be nervous the first several days of the field experience. Taking time for introductions and a brief tour of the building helps the intern feel connected with the school and aids the important transition from coursework to teaching. Include the teacher candidate on the staff mailing list and in staff workshops and social functions. If possible, provide a mailbox and an identification badge for them. Teacher candidates view these actions as symbols of belonging on the school staff.

• Orient the teacher candidate to school policies. An overview of the staff and student handbooks, safety plans, building goals, and staff member expectations help the teacher candidate become familiar with policies and procedures. It also helps the teacher candidate better understand their role in the school. The university encourages administrators to include the teacher candidate, insofar as it is appropriate, in new teacher orientations or trainings.

• Conducts at least one formal observation and conference and several informal visits during the student teaching portion of the experience. Observations enable teacher candidates to gain feedback and also become familiar with the school’s TPEP evaluation system.

• Maintains communication with the WSUV Field Supervisor to monitor the teacher candidate’s progress. Open communication enables all participants to have input throughout the experience. If a problem should develop, everyone is informed and better able to assist the teacher candidate. Communication also is necessary to assess fairly the teacher candidate’s performance when time comes for final evaluation.

- Participates in the teacher candidate’s exit process. If asked, complete a recommendation for the teacher candidate.

WSUV Field Supervisor

The WSUV Field Supervisor is a member of the WSUV College of Education faculty who serves as (1) WSU Field Supervisor/mentor and evaluator for the teacher candidate, (2) consultant for the mentor teacher, and (3) liaison between the university and the public school. The WSU Field Supervisor will visit teacher candidates on both a scheduled and a drop-in basis. The initial visit will occur shortly after the teacher candidate arrives at the school.

As part of the university graduation requirements and the Washington State Certification System, the WSUV Field Supervisor is also required to provide ongoing and final evaluations of the teacher candidate’s strengths and weaknesses. These requirements ask the WSUV Field Supervisor to evaluate the teacher candidate on certain, predetermined behaviors and characteristics specified on the Professional Disposition Evaluation for Field Experiences (PDEFE). The WSU Field Supervisor will provide guidance and support as the candidate completes the Teacher Performance Assessment (edTPA) tasks. Observation and feedback are ongoing. As an evaluator, the WSUV Field Supervisor monitors the feedback received from the mentor teacher, confirms the completion of the PDEFE, and facilitates three-way conferences among the teacher candidate, mentor teacher, and WSU Field Supervisor. (See Appendix 4.)

WSU Field Supervisor as Mentor and Consultant

As a mentor, the WSUV field Supervisor oversees the teacher candidate’s progress from an observational to an active teaching role during the advanced practicum or pre-internship and student teaching internship. Specifically, the WSUV field Supervisor:

- Observes and confers with the teacher candidate for a minimum of 12 hours during the academic year. The goal of the observations is to provide description and data about what is happening in the classroom, especially what the students are doing. The goal of the conference is to engage the teacher candidate in a “collegial discussion” (Sullivan & Glanz, 2000, p. 76) about the observational data through the steps of the constructivist supervision model (see Appendix 4). Observation and conference sessions guide teacher candidates to reflect on their own practice and make plans for moving forward in a systematic, developmental way.

- Facilitates the developmental and sequential progression of focus areas through communication with the teacher candidate and mentor teacher.

- Facilitates ongoing communication and feedback regarding the teacher candidate’s progress by completing the Weekly Conference Form a copy of which is given to the teacher candidate and the mentor teacher.
• Discusses classroom and school climate during conferences, helping the teacher candidate problem-solve management and behavior issues which may arise in the classroom.

• Schedules no fewer than two (2), Three-Way Conferences, with the teacher candidate, mentor and supervisor.

• Assists with completion of program assignments and requirements.

WSU Field Supervisor as Evaluator

As part of the university graduation requirements and the Washington State Certification System, the WSUV field Supervisor is also required to provide on-going and final evaluations of the teacher candidate’s strengths and growth opportunities compared to predetermined standards established by those organizations. Ongoing evaluation is secondary to the mentoring role but is still necessary and important. Specifically, WSUV field Supervisors evaluate the teacher candidate by:

• Monitoring the feedback received from the mentor teacher during informal conversations and through the more formal feedback provided during the Three-Way Conferences.

• Consulting with and contributing to the mentor teacher’s evaluation of the teacher candidate using the Professional Dispositions Evaluation for Field Experiences (PDEFE) form.

• Recording the dates and length of time of the observations and conferences on the Student Teaching Internship Evaluation Form, indicating that the teacher candidate was supervised by WSUV Field Supervisors for a minimum of 12 hours during student teaching or internship as required by OSPI, and approximately 6 hours for the advanced practicum or pre-internship.

• Collecting and submitting forms and attestations signed by a candidate as required by the WSUV College of Education.

Working with the WSUV Seminar Instructor, contributes to assigning a grade for student teaching on a satisfactory (S) or unsatisfactory (F) basis. The grade is determined by the seminar instructor’s assessments, and maintaining quality of seminar assignments, the WSU Field Supervisor’s observations, recommendations from the mentor teacher, and submission of the edTPA and the Professional Disposition Evaluation for Field Experiences (PDEFE). The WSUV Seminar Instructor assigns the grade for the practicum and student teaching or pre-internship and internship.

WSU Field Supervisor as Liaison

As a liaison, the WSUV Field Supervisor works actively to promote a partnering relationship with building administrators and teachers. Through ongoing, long-term relationships with schools, the WSUV Field Supervisor is able to identify appropriate mentor teachers, and schools for candidate placements. As a liaison, the WSUV Field Supervisor:

• Assists with initial placement.

• Provides introductions.
• Explains and/or answers questions about the program and assignments.

• Shares program and teacher candidate information with the mentor teacher and the building administrator (as necessary).

• Assists candidates and mentors as needed with solving problems.

WSUV Field Supervisors collaborate with university faculty and practicing teachers to facilitate mentor orientation and follow-up meetings to share ideas, philosophy, and program information with the mentor teachers. Mentor teachers have opportunities during these meetings to talk and work together and with teacher candidates.

For more information about the WSUV Field Supervisor’s roles, please see Appendix 4.

TEACHER CANDIDATE RESPONSIBILITIES

The preservice teacher is expected to act in a professional, responsible manner that would be consistent with the standards to which classroom teachers are held.

While every placement is different, all preservice teachers should engage in the following:

• an intensive period of growth in personal and professional attitudes, knowledge, and skills
• an introduction to the auxiliary services of the school and the relationships between these services and the total educational process
• opportunities to observe and practice effective methods of instruction
• supervised experiences in planning instructional programs, developing curriculum materials, experimenting with advanced technology, and assessing learners’ progress
• planned experiences for analyzing and reflecting on their own teaching performance and using feedback from others (e.g., mentor teachers, university supervisors, peers, students) to enhance and refine their teaching skill
• involvement in the academic and extracurricular activities of the school
• active problem solving in the classroom by drawing upon appropriate theories of learning, assessment, technology, and instruction
• sequentially comprehensive and complex experiences which will lead to complete responsibility for full-time classroom planning and instruction during student teaching
• opportunities to work with parents and the school community
• opportunities for professional growth in order to demonstrate the ability and potential that warrants the recommendation for a teaching certificate

BEHAVIORAL EXPECTATIONS:
In this required Student Internship and Seminar, teacher candidates will be expected to act from the foundation of responsible and respectful adult behavior:
Being present matters. Each class member gives to and receives from others in the seminar. Everyone benefits from reliable attendance. For this reason, unexcused absences, or those for other than emergency situations, may affect whether or not you earn a Satisfactory for this course.

Being on time matters. Each student owes this courtesy to his or her classmates.

Being prepared matters. Each student has a unique and valuable perspective to contribute to the seminar’s deepening collective understanding. Coming to class unprepared is akin to not coming at all and may result in an unexcused absence.

Being polite matters; Using cell phones during seminar is impolite and thus, strictly prohibited and will be considered a violation of professional dispositions.

Being honest and honorable matter. This profession demands nothing less.

Professionalism:
Teacher candidates seek to enter a highly social and collaborative profession. It is also a profession in transition. Gone are the days of a teacher pulling a classroom door shut and working independently with “his” or “her” class of students. Productive collaboration among peers is, in general, the new norm for school communities. In schools where this norm does not yet exist, it is the worthy goal toward which school communities are working.

The establishment of a positive working relationship with your mentor teacher is vital. Invite constructive suggestions, take the initiative to ask questions, and show a genuine desire to learn as much as you can. Free yourself from additional responsibilities such as outside employment, and extracurricular activities.

In addition, as a teacher candidate:

- Demonstrate a professional attitude in all contacts with the school and community. Be aware of the instances in which matters of confidence and loyalty are to be respected. Be careful during parent conferences that you do not give parents information about any student. You will often be aware of privileged information and have a professional responsibility to keep such information in strict confidence. Let your mentor teacher guide you in these situations.
- Dress professionally according to building climate.
- Address your mentor teacher in a professional manner. Students should not be allowed to call you by your first name.
- Be punctual at all times. Check with your mentor teacher for school expectations regarding times to begin and end the school day.
- In the event of an absence or an emergency, communicate to the mentor teacher, field supervisor and school placement office. When you are absent from school, you are responsible for giving your mentor teacher your plans for the day, just as you were an employee of the school district. Absences will be made up to the satisfaction of all involved.
- Attend the required seminars. If it is impossible for you to attend a session, contact the seminar instructor prior to the class.
- Complete observation assignments given in your university coursework. Classroom observations provide you with a greater understanding of the interactions between teachers and students.
- Learn to evaluate students’ growth through daily observations, learning experiences, conferences, and other activities.
• Prepare lesson plans in advance.
• Make certain that you understand the management procedures established in your classroom.
• Attend school functions such as club meetings, plays, concerts, dances, athletic events, PTO meetings, and open house programs when appropriate. You may participate in the planning and supervision of these activities whenever possible; however, these extracurricular activities cannot supersede attendance to campus courses.
• Develop pro-active standards and initiative of classroom management
• Confer and Collaborate:
  • Open and frequent communication is a key to the success of your experience. Make yourself available for conferences with your mentor teacher in order to discuss your progress. Initiate a regular schedule for consultation, protocol communication, and team planning with your mentor teacher.
  • Communicate to your field supervisor any changes in schedule or other aspects of your teaching.
  • Assume, under the guidance of the mentor teacher, extra duties such as, playground, lunchroom, and hall supervision. Be sure you understand the duties before you attempt the task!
  • Attend extracurricular activities when appropriate

Fall Term Advanced Practicum (B.A.) or Pre-Internship (M.I.T.)
The practicum or pre-internship emphasizes the following:

• Establishing communication with the mentor teacher, the WSUV field Supervisor, and teacher candidates.

• Completing assignments from university methods courses.

• Becoming familiar with the school, classroom routines, classroom management, school safety plans, discipline policies, and the curriculum.

• Actively observing in classrooms in the school, on other campuses, and in districts.

• Having preparatory teaching experiences with individuals, small groups, and whole classes.

• Gradually increasing teaching responsibilities in preparation for fulltime student teaching/internship.

Suggested Guidelines for Advanced Practicum/Pre-Internship:

Weeks 1-2
The teacher candidate observes the mentor, learns students’ names, becomes familiar with the building and school personnel, and studies the building, district, and classroom policies and procedures.

Weeks 3-4
The teacher candidate continues to observe the mentor teacher, begins taking on tasks that demonstrate their role as a teacher. These tasks may include handing out materials, taking roll, escorting students to lunch, etc. The teacher candidate incorporates university assignments that may include collection of data, preparation of a case study, interviews with students or teachers, observations of other classroom (including different grade levels).

Weeks 5-7
Observations of the mentor continue. The teacher candidate continues to integrate their course assignments with their field experiences. The mentor may involve the teacher candidate in daily classroom activities that encourage the teacher candidate to work with students in individual, small, or whole group settings. Whenever possible, teacher candidates begin teaching lessons.

Weeks 8-10
Observations of the mentor continue. Teacher candidates continue to integrate their course assignments with their field experiences. Whenever possible, teacher candidates begin teaching lessons. Observations in classrooms of varying grade levels are encouraged.

Weeks 11-15
Observations of the mentor continue. The teacher candidate continues to gain teaching experience. Because each university course in the candidate’s program includes activities and assignments directly related to practice in the classroom, these assignments may be used during some of these early teaching experiences, if appropriate. The mentor teacher shares long/short range curricular objectives and acquaints the teacher candidate with available curricular materials. At the end of fall semester, the Three-way Conference takes place with teacher candidate, mentor, and WSU Field Supervisor. At this time, the teacher candidate’s progress is discussed and spring semester goals are set for the PDEFE Dispositions Assessment.

Spring Term BA Student Teaching or MIT Internship
The teacher candidate assumes a more active instructional role (i.e. planning and delivery) while the mentor teacher acts in a supporting role. Many factors, including the nature of the placement and the level of teacher candidate progress, are used to determine the degree to which the teacher candidate transitions from a role of active observer to more active instructional experiences during the pre-internship or practicum. The teacher candidate, mentor teacher, and WSUV field Supervisor work closely together to support the completion of course assignments enacted in the field and to monitor and support the teacher candidate’s transition to more active instructional situations.

The pre-internship, advanced practicum, internship, and student teaching experiences are all highly collaborative processes involving the WSUV faculty and field Supervisors, mentor teachers, and other site personnel who share the goal of educating highly competent and caring future elementary, middle school and high school teachers. WSU Field Supervisors visit and observe teacher candidates at their field sites regularly and confer with the mentor teachers on a regular basis.

Suggested Guidelines for Student Teaching/Internship:

Weeks 1-2
After the teacher candidate re-acquaints their self with students, classroom routines, disciplinary policies, and school facilities, the candidate begins to phase into the lead teacher role. The candidate may begin by working with individuals or small groups and then gradually moving to lead teaching in one subject area. The mentor teacher continues informal observations and provides feedback to the candidate. The teacher candidate will start to attend faculty meetings, planning sessions, staff get-togethers, and any professional gatherings within the building. By the end of Week 2, the teacher candidate is encouraged to begin edTPA Task 1, Planning Instruction and Assessment and practice video recording.

Weeks 3-5

The teacher candidate is responsible for taking on additional teaching responsibilities by assuming lead teaching in additional subject areas as the mentor teacher transitions out of the lead role. The mentor more often assumes the role of observer, idea sharer, and provider of feedback. As the candidate works with all professionals, including the field Supervisor, mentor, and seminar instructor, the candidate takes the lead in working towards successful completion of the edTPA.

Weeks 6-8

The teacher candidate begins to take the lead role, if ready, or otherwise continues to assume additional responsibilities. During this time, the mentor begins to reverse roles with the teacher candidate and becomes the support teacher. The mentor should provide at least weekly formal feedback and share with the WSU Field Supervisor during the supervisory visits.

Weeks 9-16

The teacher candidate becomes the lead teacher in charge of orchestrating the classroom while the mentor becomes the support teacher. During this part of the experience, the mentor also conducts at least two formal observations and conferences while continuing to confer informally and communicate progress to the teacher candidate. The teacher candidate and mentor also video record a lesson to review together so that the teacher candidate can gain insight into their developing teaching style.

During the final weeks of the field experience, the teacher candidate may ask the mentor for information about the school district’s personnel processes. In addition, the teacher candidate may ask the mentor to write a letter of recommendation on their behalf. The WSU Field Supervisor, mentor, and teacher candidate discuss the phase-out period of transitioning the classroom back to the mentor.

Time Line Exceptions

- Health and Fitness endorsements require, at minimum, an extended unit taught in both health and physical education.

- Pullman secondary teacher candidates shall follow the suggested timeline for student teaching found at http://education.wsu.edu/field/studentteaching/handbook

Teacher Candidate Support System (TCSS) for Pre-Service Teachers at WSU Vancouver

Intent and Rationale

This system is designed to provide early feedback for pre-service teacher candidates who might be experiencing difficulty in the teacher preparation program. The purpose of the TCSS is to provide clear feedback to the pre-service teacher candidate about concerns related to his/her/their academic progress, school site activities, and/or professional disposition. The TCSS process allows for the development of a plan to address concerns.

Teacher preparation programs at WSU Vancouver are designed to support the professional exchange of ideas by fostering respectful discourse in the academic classroom and at practicum/student teaching/internship locations. It is a standard to which we hold ourselves as well. Pre-service teacher education also calls for the development of the teacher candidate’s ability to act professionally and the faculty’s role in that development; the faculty sees this as an important component of learning to be an effective teacher. Faculty believe that, in addition to what a student knows and can do, their professional disposition in the classroom indicates a student’s readiness to perform at a professional level as a teacher. Identifying current and potential problems is part of WSUV’s responsibility through its faculty and staff.

We acknowledge that while the majority of pre-service teacher candidates will not have problems, not every person is suited to be a teacher. The TCSS process is designed to provide feedback and, when necessary, to advise the pre-service teacher candidates as to whether teaching is the right pathway. The process is confidential and is designed to be supportive of individual differences and needs.

The WSUV education unit holds interns accountable for the Professional Disposition Standards. Students enrolled in teacher education programs must also adhere to the Washington State University Standards of Conduct for Students as presented in the Student Handbook and Calendar (most recent edition). These standards detail laws and regulations about academic dishonesty, harassment, alcohol and drugs, firearms and dangerous weapons.

Note: In the case of illegal behaviors, including harassment, assault/battery, or use/abuse of drugs or under the influence in a learning environment, if the investigation provides confirmation, the behavior(s) shall result in a range of consequences from warning and a personal contract to immediate removal from the program, depending on the severity of the instance. WSUV and the Department of Teaching and Learning reserves the right to remove or replace any teacher candidate from any practicum/student teaching/internship situation at their discretion, bypassing the TCSS.

Process
Pre-service teacher candidates are informed of the TCSS during the initial program orientation. An oral explanation of the process and sample scenarios are provided at that time by the Academic Director. Information includes a clear description of appropriate professional behaviors, or dispositions, that teacher candidates are expected to develop and demonstrate throughout the teacher preparation program.
as well as the steps taken in the TCSS. This information is also included in the program handbook, on the program website, and is referenced in course syllabi.

During the instructional program

Instructors are expected deal with issues/inappropriate behavior problems as a class-related matter. If an instructor is unable to remedy the situation or if the concern is very serious, the following process will be used:

- The instructor talks with the student to share the TCSS form. The student signs the form after having the opportunity to respond and provide his/her/their version of the events. Any student response must be provided in a written document.

- The instructor submits a copy of the TCSS form to the Academic Director and any supporting documents. The Director contacts the students’ other instructor(s) to see if the student is having any difficulties in any other classes. The Director uses discretion about possible further investigation related to the issue.

- The Academic Director will then contact the program coordinator to schedule a conference to discuss the concern. The conference should include all involved parties (e.g., program coordinator, instructor, student) and may also include the Academic Director and an advocate for the student (if desired by the student). The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the situation, hear both sides, and decide on a plan for remediating the problem. A follow-up conference is scheduled as part of the plan. The plan might extend into the next semester and would be handled in a confidential way with the student’s professor(s).

- If a second TCSS form is received for the same student another conference is scheduled (same participants as above plus the Director) to discuss whether the student should continue in the program and under what conditions.

During the field components of the program (Student teaching/internship)

Field supervisors and/or seminar instructors are expected deal with issues/inappropriate behavior problems as a field-related matter. If field supervisors and/or seminar instructors are unable to remedy the situation or if the concern is very serious, the following process will be used:

- Field supervisors and/or seminar instructors talk with the student to share the PDEFE form. The student signs the form after having the opportunity to respond and provide his/her/their version of the events. A student response must be provided in a written document.

- Field supervisors and/or seminar instructors submit a copy of the PDEFE form to the Academic Director.

- The Academic Director then contacts the program coordinator to schedule a conference with the Academic Director (as needed), program coordinator, field supervisors, co-directors, and/or seminar instructors, the student, and an advocate for the student (if desired by the student) to discuss the situation, hear both sides, and decide on a plan for remediating the problem. The student may bring witnesses if he/she/they and the program coordinator agree that it would be helpful if facts or interpretations are disputed. A follow-up conference is scheduled as part of the plan.
• If a second PDEFE form was received for the same student another conference is scheduled (same participants as above plus the Director) to discuss whether the student should continue in the program and under what conditions.

Safeguards

Because potential consequences to teacher candidates are so high, the faculty has built in procedural safeguards and due process. Specifically,

• Candidates will not be removed from the teacher education program solely because of problems that arise in one class or with one teacher (unless University regulations or State laws have been broken).
• Instructors will conference individually with candidates before referring the issue to the Program Coordinator or Academic Director. The faculty understands that there may be additional information or alternative interpretations regarding what they may have observed in a candidate’s behavior.
• The Program Coordinator and Academic Director will treat the matter as confidential and insist that other instructors do the same.
• Should the candidate be dissatisfied with the findings of a meeting or the TCSS process, he/she may appeal to the Academic Director. Candidates are entitled to further appeal through University channels.

Protocol for Field Experience Concerns:

Communication Ladder: The Department of Teaching and Learning reserves the right to remove or replace any teacher candidate from any practicum/student teaching situation at their discretion.

If the teacher candidate has concerns about his/her placement, the school climate, or the responsibilities expected of them during their field experiences, the following steps should be followed:

1. Confer with university supervisor.
2. If no resolution, contact should be made with the Co-Directors of Field Experiences
3. If concerns continue, the next level of resolution should be made to the Program Chair.
4. Final contact should be the College of Education Academic Director.

If the mentor teacher, building administrator, or university supervisor has concerns regarding placement or performance during the field experience, the following steps will be implemented:

• Remediation: a clear, written plan (Plan of Improvement) upon which all parties agree (mentor teacher, teacher candidate, and university supervisor).

- Probation: a written contract explaining that the teacher candidate will be evaluated on a weekly basis to insure that s/he is meeting expectations; s/he is not allowed to continue teaching the following week unless expectations are met.

- Extension: used in cases where progress is being made but it is agreed that additional time is needed to demonstrate competency. This extends responsibilities for the mentor teacher and university supervisor; usually requires additional tuition.

- Removal: The Department of Teaching and Learning reserves the right to remove or replace any teacher candidate from any practicum/student teaching situation at their discretion or when one or more of the following occurs:
  1. The mentor teacher and/or the building principal request that the experience be terminated.
  2. The university supervisor indicates that after repeated feedback and observation, documented in writing, sufficient progress is not being achieved.
  3. The teacher candidate violates the student code of conduct and/or the Professional Dispositions of Teachers (see PDEFE).

In the event a teacher candidate is removed from a practicum/student teaching placement, the following will occur:

1. Department personnel will gather information from school personnel, the university supervisor, and others as appropriate to document the reason for removal. The teacher candidate is required to work through department personnel and his/her university supervisor to resolve issues regarding his/her placement and may not directly contact school district personnel regarding the placement unless authorized by the department to do so.

2. A meeting is scheduled to discuss the situation and next steps. The attendees will include the teacher candidate and, if desired, a support person or other mutually agreeable third party and a Department committee consisting of at least three of the following: Academic Director, Co-Director of Field Experiences, University Supervisor, Program Chair, Faculty Member, Academic Advisor. At the meeting, the teacher candidate may present additional information as the situation is discussed and options are explored.

3. The Committee will make a final decision regarding removal and next steps, communicate the decision to the teacher candidate. Possible next steps include, but are not limited to, the following:

- A new placement is recommended and the teacher candidate begins again as soon as a placement can be arranged. The internship may need to be extended to meet time requirements. If reassigned, every effort will be made to make the placement in a different district with a different field supervisor.

- The teacher candidate is advised to withdraw from the field experience and must meet university criteria and the published university deadlines to withdraw from student teaching or cancel enrollment.

- The teacher candidate receives a failing grade for the field experience and may be removed from the teacher preparation program. In the event the teacher candidate is removed from the program, he or she may be able to continue in/graduate from a departmental degree program, but without recommendation to the state for teacher licensure. The degree change may necessitate additional coursework.

The decision of the committee may be appealed to the Department Chair and if not resolved to the teacher candidate’s satisfaction, through the formal grievance procedure outlined in the WSU student policies.

CERTIFICATION

Intern Substitute Certification

WSUV understands school district needs for knowledgeable substitutes. However, student teaching, a teacher candidate’s most valuable pre-service experience, is designed to assure that prospective teachers enter the profession successfully. Therefore, WSUV strongly discourages the use of teacher candidates as substitutes except as noted in this section.

Similarly, WSUV discourages the use of mentor teachers as substitutes in other classrooms. This practice limits the mentor’s availability to assist teacher candidates and, in effect, violates the school district’s contracted responsibility to provide a teacher candidate with a mentor teacher on an ongoing basis.
Nevertheless, WSUV will use the following policy for awarding an Intern Substitute Teacher Certificate and/or allowing substitute teaching by teacher candidates who possess an Emergency Substitute Teacher Certificate.

Substitution during a student teaching internship is subject to the following conditions:

- Determination of readiness for an Intern Substitute Teacher Certificate, or for substitute teaching by teacher candidates who possess an Emergency Substitute Teacher Certificate, will be made after formal observations and approval by the WSUV Supervisor, approval by the seminar instructor, and with input from the teacher candidate and the mentor teacher. The teacher candidate bears the responsibility for confirming that their district supports the use of teacher candidates as intern substitutes.

- The teacher candidate must have progressed in their assignment to the point where they have demonstrated the ability to effectively teach and learn from teaching. In all circumstances, intern substitutes may not begin prior to the mid-point of the student teaching experience and after submission of the edTPA.

- Prior to accepting any substitute teaching assignment, the teacher candidate must receive their WSUV Field Supervisor’s approval. The teacher candidate shall provide written notification to their WSUV Supervisor of each substitute teaching assignment. (Notification shall occur at the first meeting with the WSUV Field Supervisor subsequent to the substitute teaching assignment.)

In addition to the above, WSUV encourages school districts to adhere to the following practices:

- Certificated personnel shall be legally responsible for the classroom(s) where the teacher candidate serves as an intern substitute.

- Teaching as a substitute shall be limited to no more than three consecutive days and 10% of the entire student teaching experience. This does not apply to the period of student teaching when the teacher candidate is assigned to teach solo, during which time the mentor teacher is available to mentor the teacher candidate.

Procedure

Issuance of this certificate is subject to the following conditions and requires the following steps:

1. Approval by the district superintendent or district-designated human resources personnel.
2. WSUV Supervisor and mentor teacher approval prior to initiating the application.
3. Completion of at least 50% of the field experience prior to application.
5. Submission of application by teacher candidate through OSPI E-Certification system.
E-Certification User Guide for the College and University Candidate is available online at http://www.k12.wa.us/Certification/e-Cert/E-CertificationCollegeCandidateUserGuide.pdf.

Note: If a teacher candidate currently holds a valid Emergency Substitute Certificate, they do not need to apply for the Intern Substitute Certificate. The same conditions and limitations apply to both types of certificate.

Residency Teacher Certificates

The Washington endorsable teacher certificate has two levels. The first level is the Residency, and the second is the Professional Certificate. More comprehensive information can be found at the OSPI Certification website http://www.k12.wa.us/certification/. The endorsement system is intended to align endorsement requirements with the state’s learning goals and to provide school districts with teachers who are able to demonstrate a positive impact on student learning.

Residency Certificate

To be issued a Residency Certificate, the following requirements must be met:

1. Completion of:
   a. State approved preparation program
   b. Endorsement (i.e., Elementary education, secondary content area)
   c. Bachelor’s degree
   d. Successful student teaching experience
2. Prove good character and fitness to teach
3. Meet all testing requirements:
   a. Basic Skills – WEST B
   b. Teacher Performance Assessment (edTPA)
   c. Content – WEST E or NES

The Residency (First Issuance) Certificate is valid until the teacher has completed two years of successful service. At this time, they will file the reissue form (4031R) with OSPI and will have three years to move to the Professional Certificate.

Appendix 2: edTPA Assessment

edTPA Assessment

Assessment Framework

In this assessment, the teacher candidate describes, analyzes, and evaluates the teaching of a “learning segment” comprising a three to five lesson unit of literacy/math or content area instruction. The assessment is built on the proposition that effective teaching is based on knowledge of subject matter and subject-specific pedagogy, knowledge of one’s students, involving students in monitoring their own learning process, reflecting and acting on candidate-based and student-based evidence of the effects of instruction on student learning, and considering research/theory about how students learn.

The edTPA assesses each candidate’s impact on student learning (WAC 181-78A-010 (8-9)). To complete the assessment, the teacher candidate describes the lesson plans used and what s/he actually did to impact student learning (the “what”), provides a rationale for the plans and an analysis of the effects of the his/her teaching on his/her students’ learning (the “so what”), and analyze and reflect on the resulting student learning to plan next steps in instruction or improvements in his/her teaching practice (the “now what”).

Submit Teaching Artifacts and Commentaries

The teacher candidate submits artifacts and commentaries, which make up the evidence in the responses. Artifacts, i.e. evidence of teaching practice, can include lesson plans, copies of instructional and assessment materials, video clips of the candidate’s teaching, and student work samples. The candidate writes commentaries describing the plans and practice, explaining the rationale behind them, and analyzing and reflecting on what the candidate learned about his/her teaching practice and the students’ learning. In a commentary, the candidate responds to questions that prompt him/her to provide evidence of what he/she knows and understands about his/her teaching practice. The commentaries guide the assessors in interpreting submitted artifacts. They are also evidence of the candidate’s ability to communicate about and reflect on his/her teaching practice. Note that writing ability is not scored directly, but it must be clear and focused on key elements of the required descriptions, explanations, or reflections.

The full instructions for completing the edTPA Portfolio will be explained in seminar and are available for download.

Evaluation Criteria and Scoring

The assessment evidence is judged on five dimensions of teaching: planning, engaging students, assessment, reflection, and academic language. The evidence for the planning, engaging students, assessment, and reflection dimensions derives from the corresponding three tasks. Evidence for the reflection dimension comes primarily from the daily reflections but may come from the Engaging Students and Assessment tasks. Evidence for the academic language dimension is drawn from across the tasks. To identify the teaching competencies assessed, candidates must refer to the rubrics appearing at the end of each task.

Please note that this is a requirement for certification and is the sole responsibility of the teacher candidate. Mentors and WSU Field Supervisors act as supports but do not assist in the composition of candidates’ tasks.

Candidates are advised to record lessons routinely so that “back up” recordings are available to use if edTPA tasks must be resubmitted to meet standard.

For additional information concerning the edTPA please refer to the edTPA Handbook or website.
2019 – 2020 edTPA Submission and Reporting Dates edTPA scores results are reported on the timeline indicated below. Please note the following:

- Candidates should submit their portfolio based on due dates established by their preparation program or licensure requirement.
- Candidates should allow adequate time prior to their planned submission date to upload and review their files in the Pearson system and to complete the submission process for scoring.

Appendix 3: Professional Growth Plan (PGP)

Professional Growth Plan (PGP)

The Draft Professional Growth Plan (PGP) requires candidates to practice completing the PGP that will be required of practicing teachers with Residency Teacher certification.

Teacher Candidates must complete all five boxes in the template for each of the three standards. The template is available on the WSU web site and includes macros and spaces to develop plan components. The finished document is expected to be 2-3 pages in length.

Guidelines for Completing the Form:

Step 1: Needs Assessment and Goal Selection

- Go to http://program.pesb.wa.gov/review/standards
- Select the following standards and criteria to develop plan components

  Standard 5.A Effective Teaching (formerly Standard 1)—choose one criteria from the list

  Standard 5.B Professional Development (formerly Standard 2)—choose Criterion #1

  Standard 5.C Teaching as a Professions (formerly Standard 3)—choose Criterion #2

Step 2: Complete all five boxes (listed below) for each standard.

1. Areas of Focus
2. Rationale
3. Standards
4. Activities
5. Proposed Evidence
Appendix 4: Roles and Responsibilities of the WSUV Field Supervisor

Roles and Responsibilities of the WSUV Field Supervisor

The WSUV Field Supervisor’s role during the advanced practicum and pre-internship is to work with mentor teachers and to assist teacher candidates to become reflective professionals and classroom leaders. Their major responsibilities include:

- Emphasizing the constructivist teaching principles specified by the teacher candidate’s program.
- Observing and conferring with interns to promote their growth as professionals (4-6 hours during the advanced practicum/pre-internship and a minimum of 12 hours during student teaching/internship).
- Negotiating program adjustments, as needed for interns whose progress is problematical.
- Evaluating and assigning grades for the internship.

WSUV Field Supervisors are the front-line representatives of the teacher education program who act as facilitators, guides, liaison agents, and troubleshooters. Their effectiveness is based on their visibility, availability to teacher candidates and public school colleagues, and their ability to represent the WSUV program and its constructivist model components. Therefore, one of their responsibilities is to visit every school site on a frequent, regular basis.

WSUV Field Supervisors participate in WSUV faculty meetings, program planning sessions, and study groups. They make significant contributions to these deliberations. Because of the field-based nature of the programs, WSUV Field Supervisors play important roles in teacher candidate selection and program implementation.

WSUV Field Supervisors also collaborate with assigned WSUV teaching faculty in designing and implementing seminar activities during field experience semesters. Major seminar activities in which they can play a role include sharing experiences, addressing concerns, and solving problems if they arise.

Constructivist Supervision Model

WSUV Field Supervisors in the program use a constructivist model of supervision. It is based on the belief that classrooms are very complex and fast-paced social environments that require context specific problem solving and child-oriented decision-making (Darling-Hammond, L. & Sclan, 1992; Schon, 1985). The WSUV faculty and WSU Field Supervisors believe that adults, as well as children, learn by making meaning of their experiences. Therefore, we have created an approach to field supervision that is developmental, individualized, and democratic. We assume that the process should start with “where the student is” and build on what that student can already do. The supervision process is intended to create experiences that systematically build on that knowledge so that the teacher candidates will, through successful experiences, become confident and decisive.

The model for observing and conferring with teacher candidates assumes that they are in the best position to determine goals according to individual needs and interests. Conferences are designed to help the teacher candidate determining what is important to focus on in their unique and special classroom. The teacher candidate is encouraged to identify what can be done, what needs to be done next, and how to move forward. In this way an individualized, progressive sequence of responsibilities and experiences help ensure that teacher candidates become successful, confident, independent, and self-monitoring professionals (Pellett, Strayve & Pellett, 1999). The goal of field supervision is to address issues of teaching practice through data collection, analysis, reflection, and planning. Dialogue encourages the teacher candidate to think beyond observed behaviors and move toward a deeper understanding of teaching and learning. It encourages the formulation of ideas about improving practice. The supervision process may entail the following steps:

Identify Area of Focus or Concern

The teacher candidate identifies an area of interest or concern (e.g. behavior management, motivating students, communication with mentor teacher, etc.).

Observe

The teacher candidate and the WSUV Field Supervisor observe factors relevant to the concern and identify successes or improvements that are occurring. A sense of success promotes recognition of competence and control and is a step in gaining confidence and building efficacy (sense of competence), and is necessary for future commitment to problem solving. Initially the WSUV Field Supervisor may have to point out observed successes. At least three ideas about success should be generated to create a range of alternatives/options for taking action in the area of focus.

Debrief

The teacher candidate and the WSUV Field Supervisor debrief observations with questions such as, “What do you feel good about? What is working? Why do you think that works? What is helping to bring about the successes?” These questions initiate the search for data about accomplishment in the area of concern and create awareness of how problems can be solved. In this way, the WSUV Field Supervisor helps the teacher candidate create conditions where success can be recognized and/or attained.

Plan for New Actions

Finally, the questions are posed, “What are your goals? What do you want to see happen? How can you use these successes to move forward?” It is assumed that the teacher candidate is in the best position to make a plan for future implementation and problem solving. These questions involve the teacher candidate in decision-making and ultimately give control and responsibility for adapting to the specific context.
Appendix 5: Co-Teaching Strategies and Examples

Co-Teaching Strategies: Definitions and Examples

Strategy Definition/Example

1. One Teach, One Observe

   One teacher has primary responsibility while the other gathers specific observational information on students or the instructing teacher.

   Example: One teacher can observe students for their understanding of classroom procedures while the other leads.

2. One Teach, One Assist

   An extension of One Teach, One Observe. One teacher has primary instructional responsibility while the other assists students with their work, monitors behaviors, or corrects provides feedback to students of their work.

   Example: While one teacher has the instructional lead, the person assisting can be the “voice” for the students when they don’t understand or are having difficulties.

3. Station Teaching

   The co-teaching pair divides the instructional content into parts. Each teacher instructs one of the groups. Groups then rotate or spend a designated amount of time at each station—often an independent station will be used along with the teacher led stations.

   Example: One teacher might lead a station where the students are engaged in a guided reading group while the other leads a word work station.

4. Supplemental Teaching

   This strategy allows one teacher to work with students at their expected grade level, while the other works with those students who need extension or remediation.

   Example: One teacher may work with students who need re-teaching of a concept while the other teacher works with the rest of the students on enrichment or another concept.

5. Alternative (Differentiated)

   This strategy provides for two different approaches to teaching the same learning target, however the approach is different.

   Example: One instructor may lead a group in solving a math problem using an algorithm while the other instructor uses manipulatives.
6. Team Teaching

Well planned, team taught lessons, exhibit an invisible flow of instruction with no prescribed division of authority. Using a team teaching strategy, both teachers are actively involved in the lesson. From a student’s perspective, there is no clearly defined leader—as both teachers share the instruction, are free to interject information, and are available to assist students.

Example: Both instructors lead a discussion on a given topic as students are active participants in the lesson.

7. Parallel Teaching

Each teacher instructs half the students, or the students are split into two groups of uneven numbers, the groups are strategic. This can be done in two ways:

a. The teachers address the same learning target, using the same materials. The benefit to this is reduced student to teacher ratio.

Example: Both teachers lead a question and answer discussion on a current event.

b. The two teachers address the same learning target, using differentiated materials. One group may use higher level materials or materials with embedded supports. The teacher may also provide scaffolding of the materials as needed.

Example: Both teachers are teaching inferencing. One teacher has above grade level reading materials, the other has grade level (or below) and provides scaffolding such as reading aloud to the students.

8. Solo Teaching

The teacher candidate is the lead planner and teacher for the lesson. The lesson is designed specifically for only one teacher.

Example: The teacher candidate is being observed by the WSUV Supervisor, building administrator, mentor teacher or for their edTPA video submission.

STATE OF WASHINGTON

Chapter 181-87 WAC Professional Educator Standards Board Administrative Rules
Office of Professional Practices

The Office of Professional Practices, a division under the auspices of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, is charged with enforcement, including discipline of educational practitioners for violation of the Professional Code of Conduct. The office receives, investigates, and makes legal findings regarding complaints. A nine member professional advisory committee reviews appeals from proposed disciplinary actions. Educators who violate the code may be reprimanded or their license to practice may be suspended or revoked.

The Office of Professional Practices also reviews charges that an applicant for or the holder of professional certification lacks good moral character or personal fitness. These standards are set forth in WAC 181-86-013 and address commission of criminal acts and other behavior which endanger children. Commission of criminal acts may not be directly related to professional conduct but they do reflect upon the trustworthiness of serving as a professional educator.
